METHODISTS PLEASED

'AMAZING FEATURES" TO ELEC-TION, STATEMENT SAYS.

ONLY TWO DEFEATS SHOWN

33 Wyatt Building

emperance board of the Methodist Epis opal church of the United States, which has headquarters here, in a statement issued today points out that there are a 'number of amazing features to the story

"Montana and South Dakota took a ook across the line at North Dakota and gave a majority to prohibition," says the 25.000 in South Dakota, both scantily populated state, is almost incredible. Nebraska, with the example of Kansas before her eyes, gave 35,000 majority to the 'drys.' The Nebraska campaign was remarkable in many ways.

"The perfect and unselfish co-operation of the Anti-Saloon League, the W. C. T. U., the church organizations and Prohibition party leaders resulted in a union appeal to the voters which has perhaps never been equaled even by a political Organization in Michigan.

"The majority of 70,000 votes in Michigan was directly due to the excellent organi zation of the Anti-Saloon League, to the vigorous advocacy of prohibition of the business interests of the state, and to business interests of the state, and to the enthusiastic co-operation of news-papers. The victory for 'amendment No. 2' in California has not yet appeared in the general news dispatches,' but it is definitely claimed by the 'dry' head-quarters. This law will wipe out all pub-lic drinking places, and it is not yet cer-tain that amendment No. 1, providing for total prohibition, has not carried. "Another surprising result is the apfor total prohibition, has not carried.

"Another surprising result is the apparent certainty that the former 'wet' majority of 200,000 in Missouri has dwindled to a scant 75,000, with Kansas City and Jackson county favoring prohibition for the state. The latter result probably is due to the constant efforts of the Kansas City Star, and the addition of a St. Louis report to the dwir report.

sas City Star, and the addition of a St. Louis paper to the 'dry' ranks would undoubtedly win the state.

"No other state ever gave a more emphatic approval to a policy than did Washington on November 7 when every county joined in rolling up-an amazing majority against the 'wet' amendments which were intended to weaken the probabilition law. Washington cities which in hibition law. Washington cities, which in 1914 rolled up 'wet' majorities, reversed themselves completely after a demonstration of the excellent business advantages the Constitution. The prohibition victory will probably be by at least three to one. "The effort to repeal prohibition in Arkansas was heavily rebuked by the voters and in Arizona the attempt to overathrow prohibition by-local option amendments seems to have been smothered. It is also probable that Arizona carried by a substantial majority the amendments to the prohibition law which are intended to exclude absolutely liquor from that state. Oregon may also have passed a bone-dry amendment to its prohibition act, but this is not certain. The beer amendment in Colorado and Oregon received scant courtesy from the voters. "The only two defeats for prohibition were in Baltimore, where it was swamped, and in Iowa, where a 'wet' Republican Governor was elected in opposition to a 'dry' Democrat. It is not, however, by any means certain that the new Iowa Governor will be as 'wet' in practice as he is in theory. If so he will lead a hard political life and a short one as Iowa is overwhelmingly in favor of the present prohibition law."

The considerable impetus was given the campaign Sunday when it was indorsed by the pastors in many churches. In some cases special sermons were preached on the subject of the young woman away from home.

A well attended rally of the campaign workers was held at the Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon, in the charge of E. L. Mogge, campaign director, who gave detailed instructions in the methods of solicitation and said the essentials of success in financial campaigns are a well defined and thoroughly tested plan, adequate preparation, organized personality, "pep" and united prayer. RULE DEFEAT A SURPRISE.

Loses Cass County, Which Is "Wet," by Small Plurality.

The announcement that Perry Rule, author of the Rule 'red light' law, one of the few good laws passed by the last session of the legislature, had been defeated for re-election as joint representative from for re-election as joint representative from Cass and Carroll counties, came as a distinct surprise to the hundreds of his supporters throughout the state. Rule, a Democrat, went down in the Republican sweep in the state, carrying his own county by a majority of thirty-seven, but being defeated in Cass county, which is "wet," by a small plurality. Until official returns came in it was thought he had been re-elected.

Perry Rule was one of the interesting men of the last session of the legislature. His broad brimmed black hat, short stature and odd chin whiskers soon made him one of the most talked of figures of the

with convictions which he openly ex-pressed in language that was plain but had force, he soon made his presence felt in the lower house. He was right had force, he soon made his presence felt in the lower house. He was right were introduced were not to be questioned.

He offered to the decent voters of his district a record which could not be pointed to by a great many of his colleagues. He established a reputation as an enemy of machine politics.

The "red light" bill, which has been invoked effectively throughout the state, was the center of a hard fight, and Rule was foremost in it. Perhaps no other members of the legislature would have been successful in putting it across. At the last minute Rule saved his bill from oblivion by following a clerk of the senate about until that clerk pulled the bill from his pocket, where he had kept it concealed, and gave it to the Speaker of the house for his signature.
